Palermo Landscape

SC149

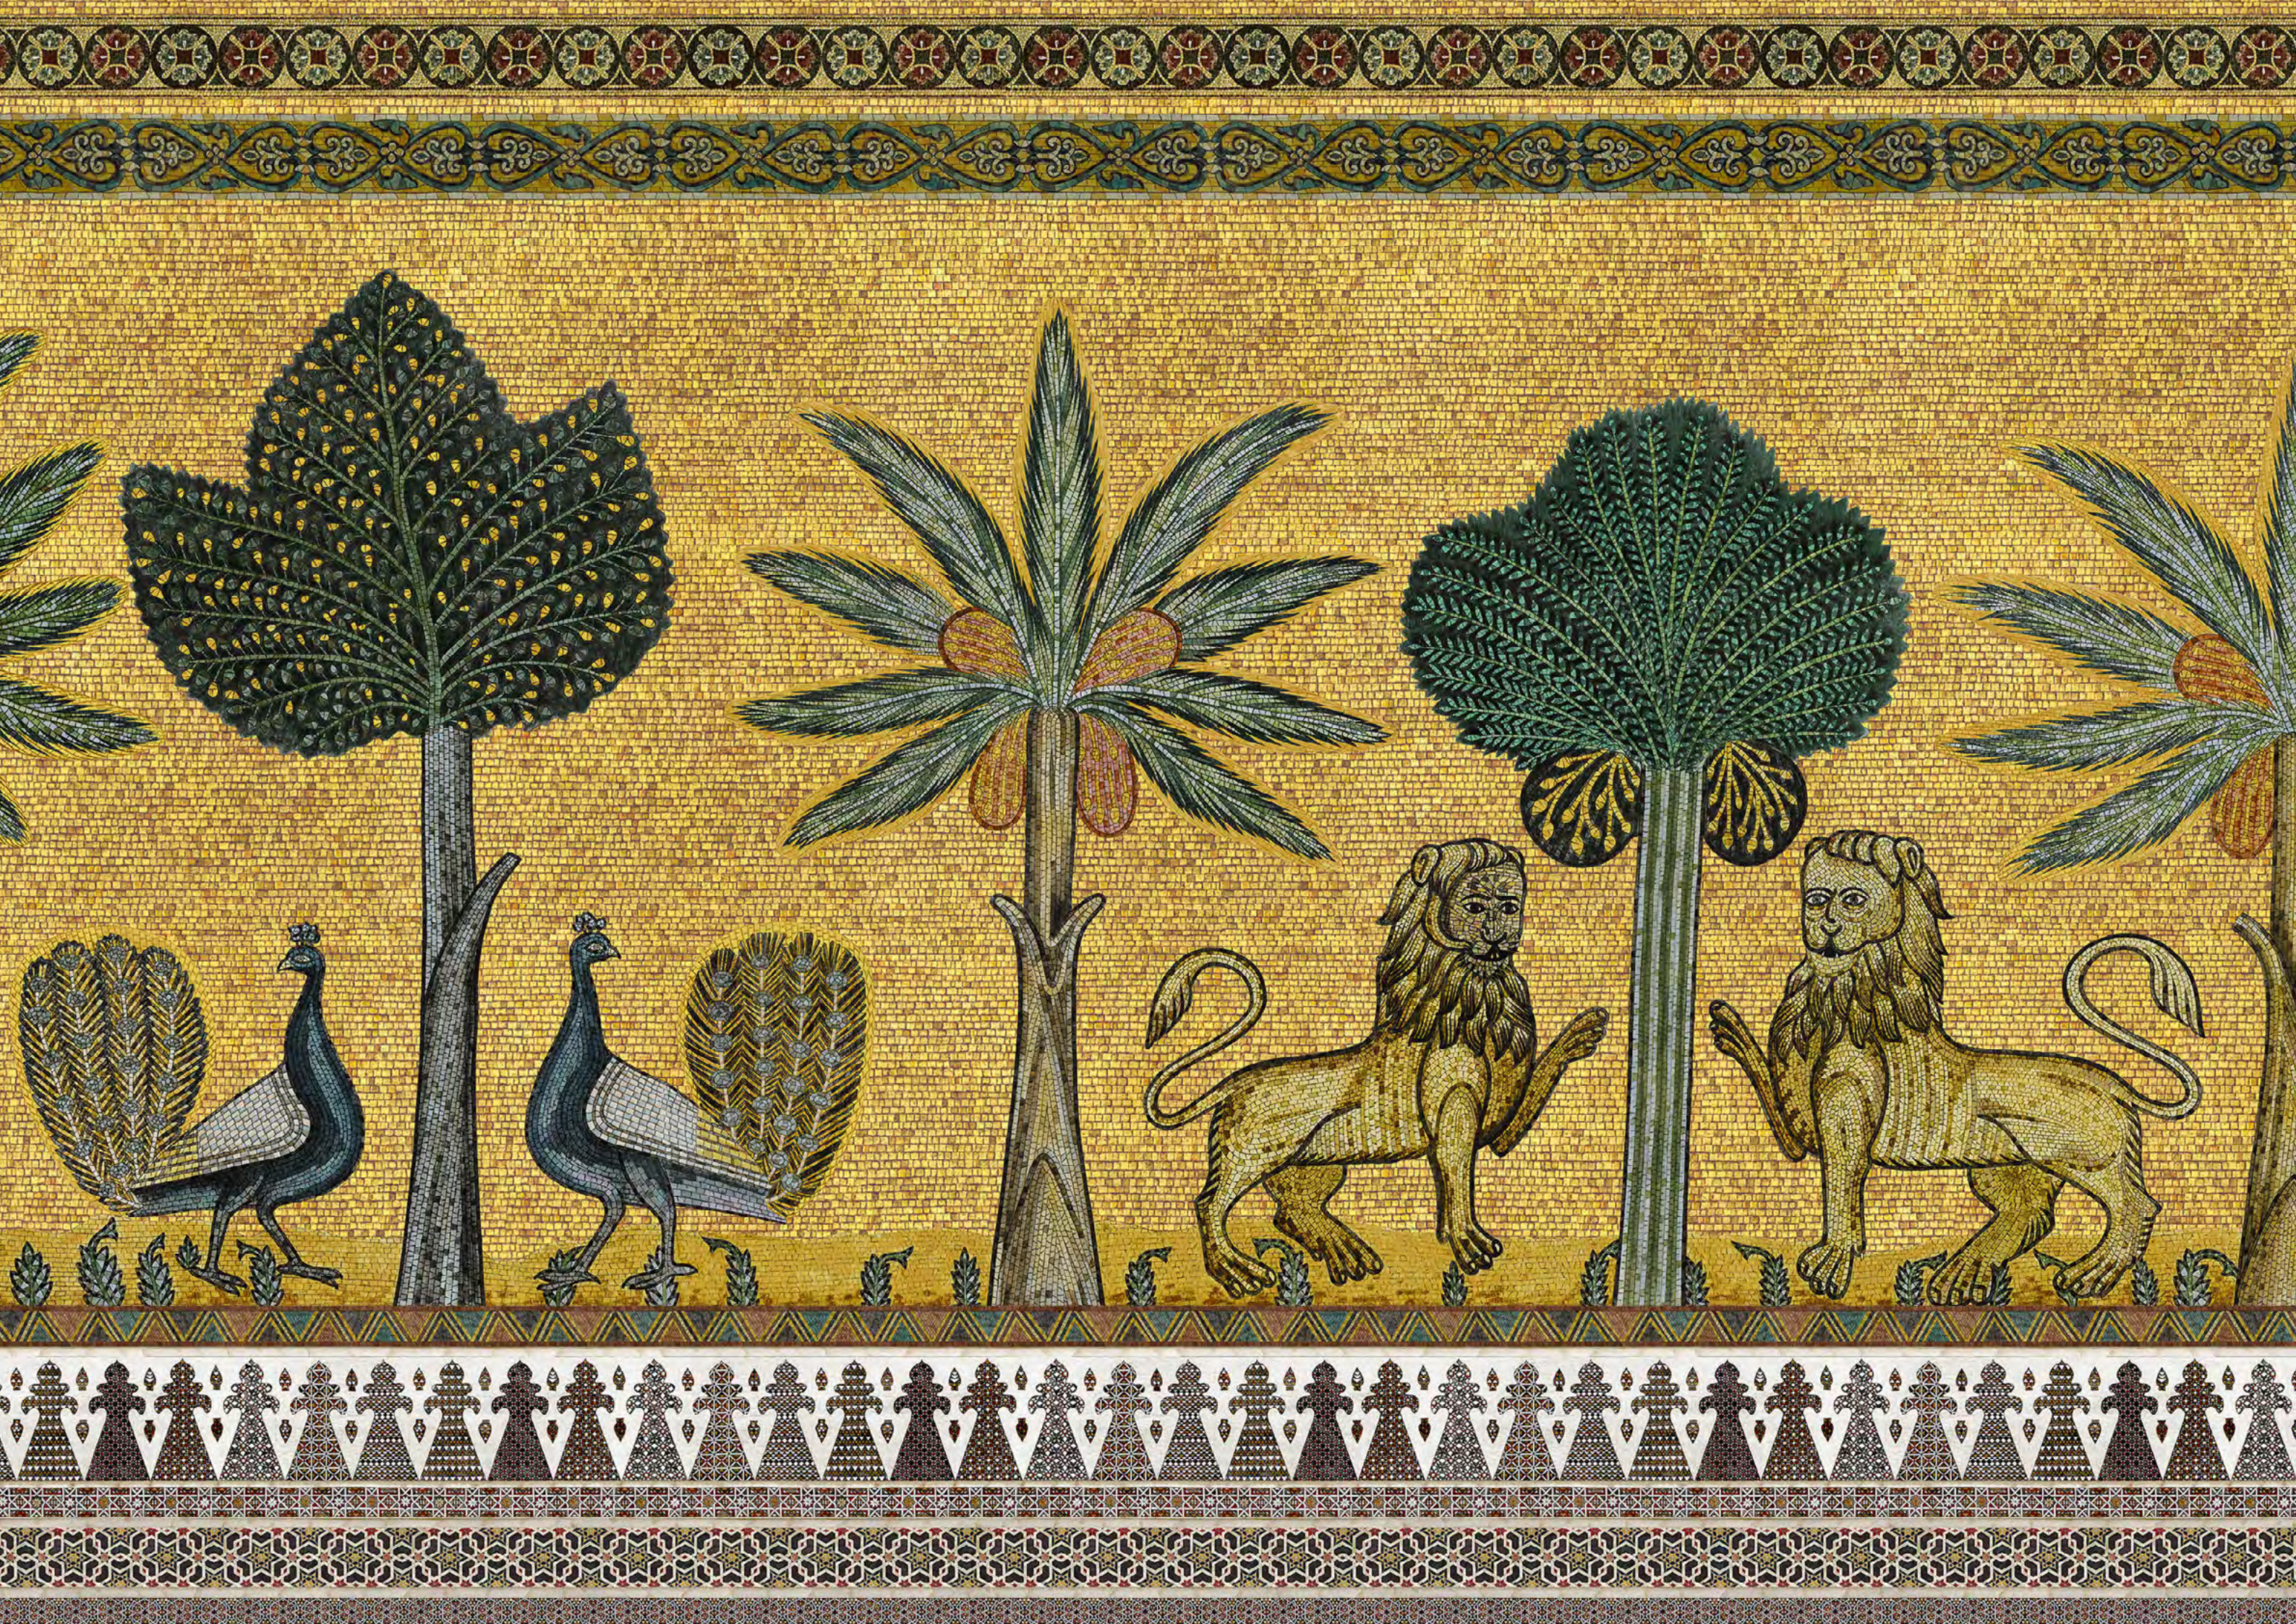

THE Norman Palace in Palermo is such an extraordinary fusion of medieval Norman, Arab and Byzantine styles that it totally captivated us. We tried to pay them homage by repainting it in our studio. Palermo Landscape is a series of 10 scenes representing birds, animals, centaurs or archers facing each other. This decor, which loops, can be used alone or above a wainscoting.

Figure 1 displays a sequence of 11 panels (P15 to P25) illustrating the reconstruction of a mosaic. Each panel shows a different arrangement of motifs, including trees, animals (lions, cheetahs, peacocks), and geometric patterns, demonstrating the iterative process of identifying and placing the correct motifs from a set of 100.
